River Counties Community Foundation
Serving donors and nonprofits in Lancaster, Middlesex and Northumberland counties of Virginia since 1996

Celebrating 20 years of community service!

As River Counties Community Foundation reaches the significant milestone of twenty years devoted to serving the local charitable community, we reflect on where we started and where we are today.

When founded in 1996 by community leaders who recognized that the community’s hard working and underfunded nonprofits needed critical support, RCCF became part of the “community foundation” movement in the US with grantmaking its raison d’etre. Becoming the first affiliate of The Community Foundation Serving Richmond and Central Virginia, we received support in the form of immediate tax exemptions, policies and guidelines, as well as valuable advice from their experienced staff.

We salute the first Board of Directors: Tom Gosse, Phil Booth, Bill Morris, John Hunt, Paul Sciacchitano and Gloria Wallace. Critical to our beginning was a gift of $25,000 from Roger Williams to establish the first RCCF fund.

We enthusiastically anticipate that the next 20 years will see increased acceleration of RCCF’s growth. As our assets have enabled increased giving to local nonprofits, their needs have continued to grow and much remains to be accomplished. RCCF is the only organization totally focused on evaluating local needs as they develop over time in the three county area. Responding effectively to these needs is our purpose in life!
The River Counties Community Foundation recently awarded its first grants to three local groups recognized for outreach efforts in providing basic needs for area residents. The Northern Neck Free Health Clinic, Habitat for Humanity and Hands Across Middlesex each were granted $500 awards.

Established less than one year ago, the foundation has already received $225,000 in donor-advised and unrestricted funds to begin a perpetual endowment for charitable endeavors in Lancaster, Middlesex and Northumberland counties. Additional gifts are sought to honor the donor’s wishes for specific types of organizations, or individually named ones, which will receive an annual income. Unrestricted gifts allow the community to begin new charitable efforts as needs are identified and funds are available.

A regional affiliate of the Community Foundation serving Richmond and Central Virginia, the local foundation is part of the fastest growing form of organized philanthropy in the United States. In 1993, grants valued at $851 million were made and donors contributed $1.8 billion to the 520 U.S. foundations, 15 of them located in Virginia.

The River Counties Community Foundation is positioned to handle a variety of needs and can accept various trust arrangements which provide lifetime income to the donor. Whichever their charitable interests, donors may choose or combine any of the following types of funds to meet their individual giving needs: unrestricted funds, donor advised funds, field-of-interest funds, designated funds or scholarship funds.

For further information, write to the foundation at P.O. Box 272, Kilmarnock, 22482, call 434-0212, or contact a board member. Members of the Board of Directors are: chairman, Thomas A. Gosse, president and CEO of Northern Neck Insurance Company; vice chairman, Gloria S. Wallace, director for the Foundation for Historic Christ Church and the Northern Neck Tourism Council; secretary, Philip O. Bouch, vice president of Wheat First, Butler Singer; treasurer, John H. Hunt II, chief financial officer for Archstreet Bank; Davis W. Estes, educator; retired high school principal; William S. Morris, pastor of Campbell Memorial Presbyterian Church; Peter J. Olenick III, president of F&M Financial Services Inc.; Lewis B. Reynolds, president of the Bank of Northumberland and Paul T. Schuchman, executive vice president of the Bank of Lancaster.

“The local foundation is part of the fastest growing form of organized philanthropy in the United States.”
REPORT FROM THE ADVISORY BOARD CHAIR
AND AFFILIATE DIRECTOR

The mission of River Counties Community Foundation (RCCF) is to cultivate local philanthropy by

- Connecting people who care with causes that matter
- Providing superior stewardship for our donors
- Creating a better quality of life … forever.

This year we are especially proud to be celebrating 20 years of living this mission.

This 2016 Report to the Community reflects on the accomplishments of the past year and also highlights how far this organization has come in 20 years. The importance of our founders’ work can best be appreciated by reflecting on our community impact. In 1997, RCCF granted a total of $1,500 to three organizations - the Northern Neck Free Health Clinic, Hands Across Middlesex and Lancaster/Northumberland Habitat for Humanity. Fast forward to 2016, when RCCF distributed slightly over $1,000,000 to a diverse group of charitable organizations, including $440,000 through our competitive grants program to nonprofits in Lancaster, Middlesex and Northumberland counties.

The achievement of this growth in charitable giving from $1,500 to $1,000,000 in just 20 years is the result of:

- The hard work of the Board of Directors, beginning with our foresighted founders.
- The establishment of 75 funds by charitably inclined residents in our community.
- The support for RCCF shown by local attorneys and financial advisors.
- The community’s support of RCCF’s Together.Stronger. annual fundraising effort.
- The major support we receive from The Community Foundation in Richmond and our own dedicated staff.

At the end of 2015, Advisory Board members Jay Wallin and Gene Mapes, two individuals who embody our mission, retired from the RCCF board. We thank them for their years of dedicated leadership and their significant contributions to our community.

We hope this report will inspire you to learn more about RCCF. We invite you to visit our website, RiverCountiesCF.org and contact Margaret Nost, Affiliate Director, or any Advisory Board member. We know that by working Together, we are making our community Stronger!
“The IRA Charitable Rollover”
Congress has made the IRA Charitable Rollover a permanent provision of the Tax Code, allowing individuals age 70½ and older to make direct transfers totaling up to $100,000 per year to qualified charities, without having to count the transfers as income for federal income tax purposes. All or part of an individual’s required minimum distribution (“RMD”) can be distributed directly to RCCF to establish or add to an existing designated, field of interest or unrestricted fund. Please be sure to consult your financial advisor prior to taking advantage of this provision.

In 2016, River Counties Community Foundation awarded over $440,000 in competitive grants. At the core of grantmaking is a set of goals that envision the community as an area that offers a path to economic prosperity, a place where young people experience educational success, a community that prioritizes health and wellness, and a region that is renowned for its cultural vibrancy. Competitive grants are awarded to impactful programs and projects working toward these collective goals.

Bay Transit driver, Charlie Hudson, and Bay Transit Director, Ken Pollock, inspect the new van’s wheelchair lift. For 15 years, Middlesex County has operated with one bus to provide all public transportation needs. With the number of unmet requests averaging 800 per year and the knowledge that over 25% of households in the county either have one or no vehicle, a two-year grant was the catalyst to pilot an expansion. Through a grant from River Counties Community Foundation, and additional state and federal funds, Bay Transit began operating a second bus in Middlesex in October 2016.

An all-volunteer organization, Smith Point Sea Rescue provides 24/7/365 sea rescue services to boaters in distress in the waters of Northumberland, Lancaster, and adjoining counties. With over 50 volunteers, the organization works closely with the US Coast Guard and local sheriff’s departments, dispatching rescue vessels and assistance. Jacob’s Ladder provides summer residential enrichment camp and advocacy/follow-up programming for academically and intellectually gifted, at-risk students in grades 4-8. Grant funding supported six students from Lancaster and Middlesex counties this summer, one taking a leading role in the camp’s performing arts program. In addition to learning to be part of a team and building self-confidence through the production, “climbers” also took part in accelerated academic courses, outdoor activities, community service projects, and life skills. 99% of climbers completing the full program graduate from high school, and 93% of that group then enroll in college.

Started in 2015, the Tavern’s “Heritage Arts Center” provides a single local venue where artisan wares of the colonial past can be viewed first-hand, often in the making, learned in a classroom setting and purchased. With over 60 local artists and artisans – blacksmiths, woodworkers, quilters, potters, spinners and weavers – can exhibit and sell their work. As a stop along the Northern Neck Artisan Trail, the center provides enrichment and educational opportunities, while boosting local tourism and the work of local artists.
